Below: McGreer Hall as seen from the Old Quad

McGreer Hall

McGreer Hall is the administrative building on campus, with offices for the principal and vice-principals. This building also houses the Business office, the Registrars office, the Liason office. As well, McGreer Hall houses the Old Library and the Tomlinson seminar room, both used in the movie

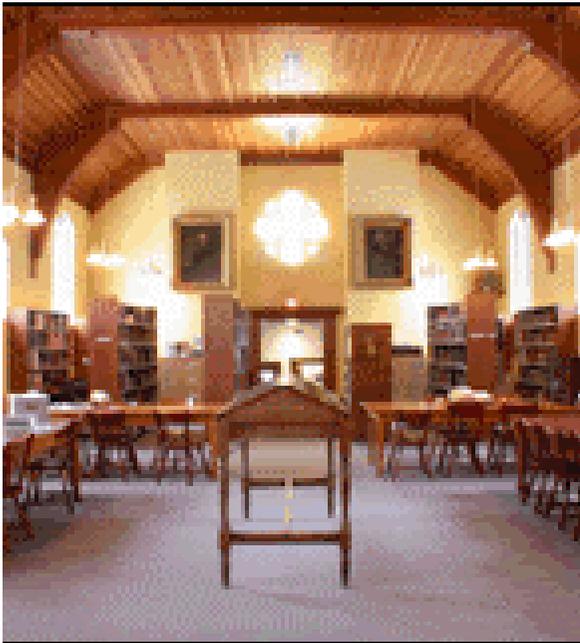

Tomlinson Conference Room

Tomlinson Conference Room one of the nicest seminar rooms on campus. Used by the administration of the university, this room is decorated with portraits of important individuals of the university's history.

This room is located where the red arrow is pointing

The Old Library

Old Library located where red arrow ends

The old library is located in McGreer Hall. It contains the BU Archives, as well as the Eastern Township Research Centre and the Anglican Church Dioceses archive. This library used to be the original library of the University until the John Bassett Library was built.

Bandeem Hall

Bandeem Hall was built as a gymnasium for the original school. It was then converted into a dining hall for the residence buildings. It is used as a performance hall and large studio by the university

The Arches

See time frame (01:42) of the movie for a screen cap of the bridge

This is the bridge that spans the Massawippi River, next to the university. This is the bridge that is crossed at the beginning of the movie. An activity that drunk students do is walk the upper span of the bridge.

SUB Building

The SUB building houses theatre, one of the cafeterias, the bookstore, the student government offices, as well as offices for non-academic organizations, like the counsellors, the chaplain, and the porter. This building is located between the old quad and Mackinnon Residence.

Johnson Science Building

This building is the boundary of one side of the old quad. The building houses many classrooms, as well as natural science laboratories in chemistry and biology. One of the classrooms in the building is Bishop William's Hall (BWH). BWH is the largest lecture hall on campus housing 130 students.

BWH is the room where the teacher is giving the math class

St. Mark's Chapel

St. Mark's is one of the oldest buildings on campus. It has been an important part of the Bishop's community, providing Sunday service, as well as special request service, like funerals and weddings.

This building was used during the choir scene

Norton Hall

Norton Hall, along with the its accompanying rez building Pollack, are the oldest residence on campus. Both of the residence attach above Bandeen Hall. This building appears in many of the background shots of the quad.

Mackinnon Hall

Mackinnon, or “Mack”, is one of the largest residence on campus. This building used to house the residence offices. The lobby is used in the movie as a transition between classrooms. It can be seen after “Paulie” is kicked out of class and is arguing with Faye.

The Gazebo

The gazebo is located on campus between the John Bassett Library and McGreer Hall. It is used mainly for receptions and special events on campus. It also is a good place to study during the fall before it gets too cold out.

Divinity House

Divinity House is one of the older buildings on the campus. It used to be a residence, but is now mainly used as offices. One rumor is that a student hung himself in the building and his ghost is still there

Coultier Field

Coultier field is the football(American) field. The stands have a capacity of about 2000. It is usually full during the football season, as there is not much too do during the weekend in Lennoxville
